

BRANDENBURG

Traditional Christmas Concert

Monday, 21st December 2020 at 2.00pm on Zoom

(lasting approximately 90 minutes)

This year, for obvious reasons, we are unable to attend the traditional Christmas concert in London. However, it is being offered on line instead. The pre-recorded musical content will include familiar audience carols singing along with the Brandenburg Camino Choir as well as Christmas related music and a few more unusual carol settings by the professional choir of St Bartholomew the Great. Instrumental support will include the organ, piano, harp and trumpet. The programme will be interspersed as usual with seasonal readings.

Unfortunately, you will have to provide your own mulled wine and mince pies!

Brandenburg are offering various dates for public events which you may have seen advertised already but we are delighted to announce that they have agreed to do a 'special' organised by u3a TVN at a cost of just £5.00 per person which we are sure you will agree is great value and will be a wonderful way to start Christmas week.

(It is also a great way for us to support some members of the music industry who have had such a very tough year.)
